

Farm Production Forecast Up In '42', Farmers Lack Help

Survey Shows Half Farmers Lack Adequate Help, But Increase Production And Count On Machinery

The agricultural war committee of York county council, under the chairmanship of Warden Earl Toole, has just completed its first task—that of a farm census to obtain the actual 1941 and the estimated 1942 animal and crop production. The survey also took in farm labor needs and estimates on the probable needs of new machinery and repairs for the 1942 cropping season.

A total of 2,385 reports were filed, which represents 53 percent of the York farmers owning and operating over 25 acres of land. The secretary of the committee, W. M. Cockburn, agricultural representative at Newmarket, explains that the organization and work on the survey was voluntary and well carried out. Each township is represented on the committee by one man, who was responsible for the survey work in his township. The townships were then broken down into section units and one or two men did the actual canvassing in each school section. Considering that the work was voluntary and no one was compelled to complete the questionnaires, the survey was well done.

The survey showed that one-half of the farmers are without adequate labor for 1942 but of these a large number signified their intention of carrying on without hired help or with the aid of some custom tractor work or with exchange of labor. One-quarter of the farmers can and are willing to exchange labor with neighbors and this is going to overcome the scarcity of labor considerably. One-quarter expressed willingness to employ high school boys for the summer months, which means that approximately 750 school boys can find employment on farms in York this summer.

The following are the estimated increases in animal population for 1942: horses, 1.05%; dairy cows, 6.77%; dairy heifers, 8.37%; yearling heifers, 12.54%;

Will Collect Salvage On West Side of Town

The Boy Scouts and Cubs will collect salvage material on the west side of the town on Saturday.

"The shortage of rubber is acute," says the Newmarket salvage committee. "An effort will be made to obtain 25,000 tons of old rubber in Canada this year. Rubber tires, tubes, hot water bottles, footwear, rubber heels, fruit jar rings, garden hose, etc., are all valuable. Please make an effort to dig up all the old rubbers this week."

"Newspapers, magazines and all scrap paper, rags, rubber, metal, bones, fats, tin foil and cork are all badly needed."

The Cubs will be out Saturday morning with bags and string to help get materials ready for the trucks in the afternoon. Please have all materials outside by 1:30 o'clock. Citizens are requested not to include tin cans as salvage material, as they are of no value.

The Boy Scout salvage depot on Huron St. is open at all times for those who wish to deliver any salvage materials.

LODGE HOLDS BANQUET IN HONOR OF LADIES

Members of the Tuscan Masonic lodge, their wives, and a number of other guests enjoyed the annual ladies' night at Pickering College on Friday evening.

Following a delicious dinner and a toast to the king, J. M. Walton of Aurora proposed a toast to the ladies, responded to by Mrs. W. L. Bosworth. Worshipful Master Wyatt L. Moorthy was master of ceremonies.

Jack Stephenson introduced the speaker of the evening, John F. Clark, horticulturalist from the Ontario department of agriculture, who gave an interesting and beautifully illustrated lecture on the gardens of Great Britain and the culture of roses. Past Master Allan Mills moved a vote of thanks to the speaker.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing to Art West's orchestra and playing bridge. Bridge prize-winners were: ladies, Mrs. J. E. Nesbitt, gentlemen, N. H. Rogers.

DAIRY SOLVES PROBLEM

"A little condensation in the head of a steam sterilized milk-can, where the lid of the can is left on, can cause the dairymen many a headache before he finds it is the direct cause of his high bacteria count," Dr. J. H. Wesley, M.O.H., said this week.

"The Newmarket Dairy had the headache, but when the cause was found it was soon righted and now they can boast of as good a milk report from the provincial laboratory as the best of them."

Miss Alexandra Belugin will dance a Russian "Kopak" that will make you jump up and forget how hard the town hall coats are. And finally there will be a whole bevy of beauties, little and not quite so little girls who will figure in a real ballet, "Awakening of Spring." Oodles of spring flowers, daffodils, lilies (no—no dandelions) awoken at dawn and stage a dance that has to be seen to be appreciated.

And there will be a Hungarian dance—what girls, what costumes, what temperaments!

The concert is sponsored by St. Paul's ladies' aid and half the gross proceeds will be given to the Red Cross.

Town Council Gets Behind Movement To Secure A "Yes" Vote

Postmaster-General Mulock Will Be A Speaker At "Vote Yes" Meeting In Town Hall Friday Night

A special meeting of Newmarket town council was called by Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales on Tuesday evening to decide what part the council would take in the forthcoming plebiscite.

"We believe the issue of this vote is big enough for the veterans to get behind it," stated William White, vice-president of the Newmarket Veterans' Association. "This is not a case of politics but a war effort. We would like the council to get behind this undertaking."

"We would like the co-operation of the council to put this over in a proper way," said Alfred Smith. "We can assure you that the veterans will give you all the support we can."

"Some of the citizens have gone together and taken the initiative in asking for an organization meeting," stated Dr. Dales. "There is going to be a large public meeting here on Friday night and three special speakers have been engaged. After the meeting the reeves of all the municipalities in North York are invited to an organization meeting. We, as a council, should get together and pass a resolution that we are supporting this issue. It would be a sad reflection on the Canadian people if this plebiscite is turned down."

It was moved by Deputy Reeve Joseph Vale and seconded by Councillor A. D. Evans that "Whereas the government of Canada has submitted a vote of the people the question whether the government is to be released from its pledges given during the last general election campaign and whereas the members of this council deem it necessary to the safety and existence of Canada that the government be free to devote all the resources of Canada to the prosecution of the war in whatever manner it may deem desirable, therefore be it resolved that this council go on record as urging every citizen of a voting age to attend at the polls on April 27 and cast an affirmative vote in the forthcoming plebiscite and that the mayor issue his proclamation accordingly."

This motion was passed unanimously.

"My view is that every person, if they are thinking of the safety of their own skins, as well as Canada as a whole, should vote 'Yes,'" said Deputy Reeve Vale. "The situation has altogether altered now since the last election. We should definitely urge the people to vote in the affirmative."

"If this means moving one step forward toward winning the war I am going to vote for it and urge everyone else to vote," commented Councillor Evans.

"There is a great difference on the part of the public in this matter," stated Reeve F. A. Lundy. "Some take the attitude that it is unnecessary but, be that as it may, we must vote in favor of it. The government has decided it is the only thing they can do. It is our duty as Canadians to vote for this. It would be disastrous if this should go into the discard. Our grandchildren would look upon it with shame. Let us get behind it and see that it is done."

"I quite agree with the previous speakers," said Councillor Frank Bowser. "But I wonder how far we should go with this. I understand there is going to be a meeting here Friday night, but I believe we are losing a lot of time until then. A good many people are taking a political view. I heard one man say today that they burnt their fingers a few years ago, now let them wear the burns. They claim it is a waste of money. I don't believe it is. We don't want to waste from now until Friday."

"I am very proud of being your mayor when men of different politics take this attitude," said Mayor Dales. "We don't need to wait until Friday night. Before Friday night we are going to ask that the reeves be responsible for their own districts. I would like the council to pay for house to house doggers, a few large advertising posters and some programs for Friday night."

"I believe the number of people who would vote 'no' are in a small minority," stated Councillor J. L. Spillette. "This plebiscite is a mark of purely democratic government and real constructive legislation. I don't think it is a waste of money. We should try to get everyone out to vote."

"In view of the shortage of gas and tires we should do everything to urge the people to go to the polls and not to sit and wait for a car," said Reeve Lundy. "Our people have got in a desperate state. If the Japs were at the door they would soon get out. Let us urge the people, with all the vigor we possess, to go to the polls. If it is only one quarter of a mile it takes gas and tires."

"You have educated them to wait for cars," chided N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor.

"I'll resist all my impulses," stated Councillor Arleigh Armstrong.

"I am heartily in favor of the matter," said Mr. Mathews. "I will be very willing to do anything in my power to help the vote along."

It was moved by Mr. Vale and seconded by Mr. Evans that the finance committee be authorized to allot an amount not exceeding $200 to help defray expenses in connection with the forthcoming plebiscite.

"A committee has already been formed and they have engaged Mr. H. L. Trapp," stated Dr. Dales. "There is going to be a tremendous amount of work and running around. The former Victory Loan office in the hotel has been rented and the same clerical help hired. Two hundred dollars is only a drop in the bucket."

"The band and the veterans are going to parade Friday night to create interest in the meeting," said Wm. White.

Hon. W. P. Mulock, M.P., postmaster-general, Major Alex. McKenzie, Woodbridge, and Major Everett Bristol, K.C., Toronto, will be the speakers at the meeting in the town hall Friday evening.

"Mr. Trapp, who managed the Victory Loan campaign, is kindly giving his time and gasoline to organize an affirmative vote in the riding in the forthcoming plebiscite," Deputy Reeve Joseph Vale told The Era.

TIE PIANO DOWN AS BOAT BUCKS WAVES

Tpr. Harold Gadsby of Newmarket, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gadsby, has arrived safely in England. In a letter which Mrs. Gadsby received from her son, recently, written on March 13, he says:

"I reached England a couple of days ago. We didn't see a single enemy sub or aeroplane during the trip. To my surprise I was not seasick at all, although it was pretty rough."

"It was so rough they had to tie the piano to a pillar to keep it from sliding around when we had sing-songs."

"I hope all the folks are well. The conditions over here aren't as bad as I thought they'd be and I haven't seen any damage done yet."

N.H.S. Board Indicates Appreciation Of Teacher

Leave of absence for the duration of the war, with salary to the end of June and promise of reinstatement were granted to Capt. D. O. Mungovan of the high school staff at a Newmarket high school board meeting on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Mungovan's letter just asked for leave of absence. G. L. Manning suggested that the resolution should contain a promise of reinstatement and W. J. Patterson said that in view of Mr. Mungovan's 13 years of service he should receive his salary until the end of June.

Capt. Mungovan is serving with the Queen's York Rangers, recently mobilized York county unit.

The board authorized Principal J. B. Bastedo to employ a secretary or if necessary a substitute teacher to complete the year's work.

In response to a question from Chairman A. N. Belugin, Mr. Bastedo stated that "the student benefit fund is working satisfactorily." "We have paid every claim and have a balance on hand," he said. "One payment was for $12 to a spectator at a game who had glasses broken."

Dr. W. D. Muckle asked how much the students pay into the fund. "Ten cents a month per student," said Mr. Bastedo.

All members of the board were present: A. N. Belugin, W. J. Geer, W. J. Patterson, Fred Chantler, Rev. Dr. W. D. Muckle, R. L. Boag, G. L. Manning, and the secretary, Allan Mills.

Free Hand For Government, Lions Urged To Work For

It is only the sensible thing for every liberty-loving citizen to give the government a free hand," Newmarket Lions were told by an officer of the club on Monday evening. They were urged to take an interest in getting a full turn-out of voters on polling-day and to use their cars to drive citizens to the polls.

An inspirational talk was given the club by W. J. Feldkamp of Brantford, who was accompanied by James Robinson of Brantford and introduced by Frank Courtney, program chairman for the evening. President W. M. Cockburn thanked the speaker.

"Our children watch us," said Mr. Feldkamp. "Our boys want to be like their dad." He urged setting them a good example.

Setting a good example, he suggested, included taking good care of one's health. "We eat too much. We smoke too much. Most of us enjoy a smoke but we smoke too much. Stop smoking two or three or four weeks and it will give you a sense of satisfaction to know that you can stop. If you have arthritis you must stop smoking."

A PRECEDENT IN THE MAKING

Councillor Wm. Dixon, who has been absent from recent council meetings because of his unfortunate illness, is a valuable councillor because of his thoughtfulness and courage. It doesn't bother him in the least to be in a minority or to stand or vote alone. We couldn't help thinking, therefore, when it was proposed at the last council meeting that Mr. Dixon should be paid for the council meetings that he missed that he would be the first to question the desirability of establishing such a precedent. If a councillor is to be paid for a number of meetings from which he was absent because of illness then he should be paid for one absence due to illness. When the council gets that far it will have to distinguish between illness which keeps the councillor in bed and a cold which keeps the councillor in 'o' nights. In short, the councillors voted themselves remuneration this year without any reference of the question to the voters, and we suggest that they should not amend the by-law to allow councillors payment for meetings which they have missed—even though they would be present if they could and even though they have rendered great service to the community in other years. After all, many persons have served the town without remuneration.

MR. HEPBURN'S FAIRNESS

A copy of the Sudbury Daily Star dated March 14, 1942, reaches us as a piece of wrapping-paper. In it we happened to note two quite different items concerning Japanese born in North America. In one a U.S. senator told of a bill which would come before the U.S. congress to revoke the citizenship of all American-born Japanese. In other words, they are Japanese because of their descent and racial characteristics (with probably a knowledge of the Japanese language). The other item quoted Premier M. F. Hepburn of Ontario as saying that he had agreed to accept two or three Canadian-born Japanese with farm experience as employees on his farm. Premier Hepburn said: "I wouldn't have anything to do with Japanese nationals, but I do believe Canadian-born and educated Japanese should be given special consideration." We have no doubt that the U.S. congress will reach or has reached the same conclusion as Premier Hepburn but we are proud that Ontario's premier was anxious to be fair to these Asiatic Canadians who have had no share in the making of the Pacific war.

THE VOTE AND THE MOTE

Canadians cannot make too great an effort to help turn back the Nazis and their allies. As Canada's prime minister has said, the best way to defend Canada is by helping others to fight the enemy on distant fields. Canada has already done a great deal, but there is much more that she can do and undoubtedly will do. Canada has harnessed a large part of her industry to the making of munitions, tanks, planes and ships. Canada has contributed airmen, sailors and soldiers far beyond the per capita mobilization of the United States (in spite of Dorothy Thompson's remark that Americans did not consider that Canadians were bearing an equal burden as long as Canada did not have conscription). Canada is giving vast quantities of food to Britain.

In spite of the wonders of organization and mobilization that Canada has achieved, however, Canadians can do much more. There are many wastes and leaks. Men are unemployed in urban centres. There are factories working part-time and experienced executives in charge of them who could be doing bigger jobs. There are empty factory buildings. There are idle acres which could be producing foodstuffs and shipyards which are not working to capacity or which waste time between orders. There are reports that men over 55 cannot get employment in certain war work and that men over 60 cannot get employment in certain other war work.

There are these deficiencies in Canada's effort. It isn't a "total" effort in the sense that a totalitarian country which can order its citizens about in return for a subsistence allowance can make a total effort. Under our system the country's effort is limited by the country's ability to pay. Canada must pay each one of us for our part in the war effort. Canada is spending huge sums this year but it is questionable if even these huge sums will be sufficient to put us all to work all of the time or to put all our factories or all our farms to work.

There have been many suggestions as to how we might catch up with the totalitarian countries. Canada could pay those who work in munitions factories, it is said, the same $1.30 a day and board and clothing which she pays to soldiers, or Canada might make a levy on the capital of all of us who are not in uniform. Either or both of these things, drastic as they may be, could be done, and no doubt they would be accepted willingly by the Canadian people.

However, our government and our parliament have not decided that such drastic methods of obtaining money, to put more people to work making more ships and more munitions, are necessary. Canada still obtains the money she needs by taxation of incomes (directly or indirectly) and by borrowing. Canada doesn't even tell us that we must lend to her. She seeks to persuade us to lend by means of printed and verbal sales-manship. It is still—even though we are engaged in a struggle which we cannot afford to lose—the Canadian philosophy of government that the best effort is a voluntary effort.

Those of us who would be least affected by more drastic methods of raising money to push the war effort are sometimes inclined to be impatient and to advocate compulsory loans and the conscription of wealth. Those of us who would be least affected by drastic methods of recruiting labor for farms and munitions factories are sometimes inclined to be impatient and to urge the conscription of men for munitions factories and farm work at $1.30 a day (and board and clothes).

In the same way, those of us who shy away from drastic methods of increasing our industrial and farm effort, and who would be least affected by an increase of the number of men in uniform, are inclined to think first in that direction when we talk of increasing our war effort, and sometimes impatiently to talk of overseas conscription.

We are going to increase our war effort. We must do it. Great as it admittedly is now, we must try to do more. We can make two approaches to the task. We can think in terms of the extra effort we ourselves can make, the extra generosity we ourselves can show, the sacrifice we ourselves can make, or we can think in terms of the sacrifices which we can force on others, the money or the services which we can force them to give.

Perhaps we shall choose the latter course, but we certainly haven't exhausted as yet the possibilities of the former. There are few of us who couldn't give more. There are few of us who couldn't lend more. Drive our cars less, buy less clothes, give more time to war activities. We couldn't all enlist, but by our sacrificial living we could and would inspire many to enlist who now find justification in our conduct for not doing so.

There is room for a tremendous increase in our voluntary effort. Perhaps the prime minister and some of his cabinet ministers should be freed from administrative duties to devote their full time to rousing the nation to a greater effort and inspiring us all with the desire to do more ourselves and to stop worrying about what the other fellow isn't doing.

WE NEARLY SMILED

A Toronto member, W. J. Stewart, asked in the legislature last week what steps if any the Ontario liquor control board had taken to teach temperance in the schools. The answer when made will be interesting. Another fair question would be what steps the liquor control board has taken to teach temperance to adults. Coming up University Ave. in Toronto the other day we noted the bold inscription "Dieu et mon Droit" and on the door below: "Liquor Control Board of Ontario." We would have smiled had it not been for the familiar warning: "Shame to him who evil thinks."

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

During the past couple of months The Era has carried a series of articles in the column "What Others Think" from other town weekly newspapers, all of them advocating a "Yes" answer to the approaching plebiscite. In this issue The Era carries advertising and news reports advocating a "Yes" answer to the plebiscite. The writer of these editorial columns wishes to make it clear, if he has not already done so, that he does not share the views of those whom we have so freely quoted. We do not regard a "Yes" answer as desirable, even though we do regard it as both probable and certain in North York and throughout the most of Canada.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

THE COMING PLEBISCITE

(Howmanville Statesman)

There are only 17 days left between now and the polling on the national plebiscite proposed by Prime Minister King and which was carried by parliament after weeks of debate. Within that time an endeavor is being made to acquaint all of the people of Canada of the terms of the measure and its importance in an all-out effort toward getting into and on with the war. Like most proposals of the government it presents negative qualities such as the recent man-power proposals of the premier. On the floor of the House, Mr. King used this term: "negative compulsion," and that, generally, has characterized all the moves creepingly taken toward total war.

On the invitation of the Statesman offering space in its columns, Durham's M.P., Mr. W. F. Rickard, has issued a statement on the plebiscite in this issue. It is his desire that a "yes" vote be recorded to sustain the desire of his political leader. In this the Statesman backs Mr. King's wish completely. Indeed almost all parties, including C.P.F., Social Credit, Communist (in absence) as well as Tories . . . all are for a "Yes" vote. Only in Quebec is being organized opposition demanding a "No" vote. Harsh things have been said and more will be said that the plebiscite is but a spurious gesture. The political parties in English-speaking districts cannot afford to oppose it because they would lose votes by so doing. Hence, they are all on the band wagon.

Many conscientious Canadians are debating in their minds: Do we deserve victory in this world war of survival and freedom when so many bewildered citizens stand complacently by, or are dumbfounded, to see government leaders imbued with the lust for political power and patronage put party interests before their country's security?

Mr. Rickard points out further in his letter, "you are not asked to vote for or against conscription," you are merely asked to relieve the government from a "commitment." It is as simple as that. But when the statement is made in his letter that "it is an issue that may decide the fate of this war and particularly the fate of Canada," we may discern stampede tactics much wide of the mark. The decision, pro or con, is much more likely to decide the fate of political parties and there can be no "all-out" effort until they are prepared for other than negative measures and political jockeying. Under the circumstances the best thing to do is to join Mr. Rickard, positively to endorse this negative proposal.

MERRY AND HATTIE VISIT THE LAKE

BY RUTH DINGMAN HEBB

"Here we are up at Lake Simcoe," announced Merry, the little black-capped Chickadee lady, rather breathlessly to her friend, Hattie, the White-breasted Nuthatch. "It certainly isn't very warm up here, is it, in spite of the sunshine? How the wind blows that open patch of water there. I wonder what water birds we will find in this marshy area here."

"Let's look around and see," suggested the Nuthatch. "It isn't as springlike as it might be for almost the middle of April, is it? That heavy snowfall last week was a big surprise. And just look, there is still snow on the ground in some places."

"Oh, there are some Ducks swimming around out there," Merry called excitedly. "I wonder if they are winter Ducks who haven't gone back up north again or some of the other Ducks who are on their way from farther south and who are stopping here before going on to their summer breeding grounds."

"Lots of the winter Ducks will be moving on up north this month and the others will be coming here and then going on, as you say, so there should be plenty of activity among the water birds during the month of April," Hattie said. "Now, who would those two Ducks swimming out there now be?" she asked as the two small birds drew closer to the Ducks.

"One of them is very smartly dressed in black and white," Merry said. "It has a black head and back and most of the rest of it is white, including a little white circle between its eye and bill."

"It's an American Golden-eye Duck, a male," stated Hattie. "And of course the bird with him, with the grey and black back, white wing patches and brown head must be his lady friend. Gracious, just look at the way the gentleman is performing for the lady." The female Duck was swimming placidly and smoothly through the water, while the male swam toward the female making swift ducking motions with his head and neck. He was obviously courting the lady and doing his best to show her how splendid a fellow he was.

"Well, isn't that sweet?" exclaimed Merry gaily. "I do hope he succeeds in impressing the dear lady. I wonder if they have been farther south or have wintered in Canada."

"I'm quite sure they've been in Canada all winter," answered Hattie. "Let's ask them. They can hear us if we call loudly from this tree on the shore."

"Oh, we spent the winter in Ontario," the male Duck answered, when Hattie had shouted out her question. "We don't mind the cold one bit. We're big, hardy Ducks, you know. All we ask is some open water to swim around in. Later on we'll be going on up north for the summer."

"That Duck must be 20 inches long," Merry commented. "They are certainly big, aren't they?"

"Yes, and the first cousins, the Barrow's Golden-eyes, are just as big and look very much like them," Hattie answered. "They are rarely seen around here, though. They have a crescent-shaped patch between the eye and bill instead of a circular one."

"There are some more Ducks over farther," pointed out Merry. "Let's see if we can figure out who they are. They're big ones. A little bigger than the Golden-eyes. One of them at least has a reddish brown head and neck. The red goes right down to the shoulders. It has a black breast and is white below, I think. Its back is white from this distance."

"Oh, ho, I know who that is," said Hattie triumphantly. "It's a Canvas-back Duck. The back looks like canvas if you get close to it, as it has fine dark flecks in it. There seem to be some female Ducks with him, too, with less striking coloring and it looks to me as if there were some other much smaller Ducks with them."

"Yes, I can see one of them quite clearly," said Merry. "It's much smaller, with a chestnut brown head, whitish underparts and bright green on its wings. And it has a green patch on the side of its head, too. There's another Duck of the same size with it."

"That's easy," said Hattie. "They must be male and female Green-winged Teals. They are the smallest Ducks that we see around here, and the only ones with green on their wings like that. The female is rather a dull, speckly brown, isn't she, but she has green on her wings, too."

"There are quite a number of Gulls flying about enjoying the nice day," observed Merry. "I don't see any Great Blue Herons, yet. I guess the last storm has delayed them."

"Oh, it's early for them yet," Merry assured her friend. "I did think we might see a Kingfisher, though."

"And let's not forget to look for a Phoebe on our way home," said Hattie. "They should be getting back one of these days. Or perhaps we might run into a Yellow-bellied Sapsucker in some woods. This is the sap season for our sappy friend, you know."

"I won't be surprised if a number of the birds we might have expected just now don't turn up for a little while yet," Merry remarked as they turned to go home. "It will have to warm up again first."

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era: This association is anxious that no vote be left unturned to see that a huge "Yes" vote is rolled up on April 27.

This is strictly a non-partisan effort solely in the best interest and welfare of our country in its hour of need.

We seek and would appreciate your co-operation in providing space in your newspaper for the enclosed item.

TO YOU, THE CITIZEN:

Loyal Canadians will be called upon April 27 for a straight "Yes" or "No" answer to the most important question ever placed before the Canadian people.

On that day the dominion of Canada, the senior dominion of the great commonwealth of nations, through her people will decide for an unhindered all-out war effort against the combined aggressors of all freedom of the people—or decide that we shall just drift downstream trusting in divine providence on the outcome without doing very much about it. It is your boy, your husband, brother, sweetheart, friend, who is over there looking for help. Can you dare you, let them down? Shall brave men die because you faltered?

We hear the cry, "Come over and help us," and from the fields of Flanders the challenge, "Take up our quarrel with the foe." It is the voice of the dead that speaketh, "Dare we break faith with those who die?"

If you love your country you will vote "Yes" on the 27th. It depends on you. Do not let it be said that Canada failed in the hour of need. "Spoil the Axis rest by voting 'Yes'."

This war is playing strange tricks with people—changing their viewpoints, upsetting cherished traditions, broadening their knowledge of geography, revising their history, and, on occasions, causing a tension of nerves that is rather upsetting.

I have never been a particularly nervous person, at least in popular parlance, things do not "get on my nerves." I have one silly habit, though. I jump as if shot at an unexpected sound—not from fear, but from some nerve reflex which I cannot control.

But, India has got me! I cannot sleep wondering what Indian leaders will decide. Wondering, as I heard one commentator express it—"If they'll continue fiddling, while Rome burns," wondering if they'll keep on discussing and arguing, finding fault and causing delays till the Japs are well rooted in their soil, and then sit down and say, "What is to be, will be" and let things take their course.

I am writing this on April 9 and I am no prophetess, but it seems to me that deep hidden in every heart, whether it be Christian, Moslem or Hindu, there is a deep-seated love of homeland, an inborn patriotism, which is as vital to a man's soul as oxygen to his body, and of which only a Quisling will deprive himself, and in so depriving himself he has lost something—killed something essential to his life.

And it's this vital spark of patriotism which I think will, in the end, override the memory of past injustices and exploitation, the political and religious enmities which separate its own factions, and will yet make that great, rich sub-continent a country united, strong, and able, with a limited amount of outside advice, to guide its ship of state to a safe harbor.

A young child has to be guided, upheld, taught to think for itself, to learn to judge between right and wrong, to learn certain rules of health and conduct, and one wonders if the Indian leaders expect enthusiasm to give them what years of training in statecraft, diplomacy and war have given the British—in fact they seem to think they can assume entire management of an enormous country threatened by a relentless foe—without experience—sort of to spring full-fledged and perfect, like Minerva from the brain of Jupiter.

They have been offered what they have long asked for, and yet, like children who refuse one candy if they see a boxful in the offing, they find what they asked for isn't exactly what they wanted.

However, perhaps, and yes, surely, Sir Stafford Cripps, President Roosevelt's envoy and the memory of Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek will find arguments to pierce their armor of aggressiveness and lay them open to reason.

India has so much—its land is rich in a hundred things of vital importance to a world at war, and eventually for a world at peace, and the Indians themselves are men of intellect with spiritual insight and capable of great things. If the illiterate masses can be given the education which has been their right but not their lot; if those more happily placed forget their very real grievances and find their real place in the team work of the Allies, then, I think, India will rise to a height of glory and greatness, undreamed of by the moguls and shine as brightly as its own jewels in this great commonwealth of ours and in the commonwealth of nations which will surely be the bulwark of civilization after the war.

This article has to be posted now, a week ahead, and one does not know what the next broadcast will bring, but in my soul I feel that India will yet play a great part in our fight for liberty, equality and fraternity, the fraternity of all peoples, of every religion, color and tongue.

LOYAL CITIZENS DO NOT HOARD!

Hoarders are people who buy and store away goods beyond their immediate needs.

They want to be in an unfair position over their neighbors.

Hoarders are traitors to their country and their fellow citizens, because by creating excessive and unnecessary demands for goods, they slow down the war effort.

There is no excuse for "panic buying" and hoarding. Everyone will have enough, if no one tries to get more than a fair share.

Hoarding must stop! Every unnecessary purchase makes it more difficult for Canada to do a full war job.

OTTAWA, CANADA

POLICE COURT BOTH FRIENDS BLAMED IN DEATH OF THE ONE

"I want a week to think this over," Magistrate W. E. McIlwain stated in Newmarket police court Tuesday after hearing evidence in a charge of dangerous driving against 17-year-old Murray Johnston, of Queensville. "I don't want to make a hasty judgment. There will be a conviction though." His worship ordered that Johnston remain in custody for one week.

The charge against the defendant arose out of an accident which occurred at midnight of April 4, just north of Queensville, in which his friend, Eric Pickrell, of Queensville lost his life.

Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C., said that he wished to proceed by indictment. Defense Counsel Lorne C. Lee of Aurora pleaded not guilty in the defendant's behalf and elected summary trial before the magistrate.

When called to the stand to give his evidence, Harvey Pickrell, brother of the deceased boy, told his worship that he and his brother had been driving north from Newmarket on the highway leading to Sutton at midnight of April 4. He stated that they had stopped at a barbershop in Queensville where they saw the defendant. They then proceeded north, leaving the barbershop shortly ahead of Mr. Johnston, who followed them along the highway in his own car.

"Just tell his worship what happened after you left," asked the crown.

"He passed us first at the north end of Queensville," stated the witness. "We were going at about 30 miles an hour. Then as we got over the cemetery hill we passed him. We were going about 35 or 40 miles an hour. We started up another hill. Murray Johnston then turned out to pass us just as we got started up the hill. We were quite a piece from the top of the hill."

"What happened then?" prompted the crown.

"I think he hit our car," replied the witness.

"You think that he hit your car, do you know?" "No, I do not."

"What makes you think that he hit your car?" "The left front of our car got a jolt."

Questioned further by the crown, Harvey Pickrell told the court that the Johnston car had passed the car his brother was driving on the left, and had cut in in front when the jolt occurred. He said that he did not know what happened after that, as he was knocked unconscious and did not regain consciousness until he was in hospital, where it was found that he had sustained a broken shoulder and bruises on the head. He could not say what happened to his brother, other than that he was thrown out of the car and died a few hours after the accident occurred.

In reply to queries of the defence, the witness stated that his brother had gone into the barbershop to have his hair cut. He could neither remember Murray Johnston sounding his horn or where the car in which he was driving was in respect to the centre line of the highway at the time of the accident.

According to David Rowlings, Queensville, he knew both the defendant and the Pickrell boys and had seen them in the barbershop on the night of the accident. He testified that he left the barbershop shortly after the other two cars had proceeded down the highway.

"I could see the tail-lights of the cars in the distance," stated Mr. Rowlings. "Just as I came over the cemetery hill I could see the lights in the hollow below. I did not notice anything more. I was looking at the road ahead. The next thing I noticed was that they were stopped. I went up and stopped. I saw the Pickrell car in the east ditch, right side up."

"Did you see Eric Pickrell?" asked the crown.

"Yes," replied the witness. "He was lying on the right side of the road quite a way from the car." Mr. Rowlings qualified this statement by saying that he thought the distance to be about 50 feet.

"What condition was he in?" further inquired the crown.

"I thought that he was in quite a serious condition. He was unconscious, bleeding badly." The witness went on to say that Harvey Pickrell, who was lying in the east ditch, a short distance from the car, was able to speak but not rationally. He described the Johnston car as lying on its left side across the road about 100 feet north of the Pickrell car. He said that the defendant, who was uninjured, told him that he had lost control of his car.

"Did you see anything irregular about these cars proceeding on the highway?" asked Mr. Lee. The witness replied that he had not.

"At what speed were you going?" asked the crown. Mr. Rowlings replied that he was going at about 35 miles an hour and that he had kept about the same distance behind the cars all along the highway.

Constable Joseph Jardine, East Gwillimbury constable who investigated, told his worship that he arrived at the accident at about 1 a.m. of April 5. The night was dark and the pavement "absolutely dry."

"The first thing I came upon was a car lying in the east ditch," testified the officer. "It was the Pickrell car. Seventy-five feet further to the north and west of the centre line I found Eric Pickrell being held in a sitting position. Further north I found the Johnston car lying on its side."

"Did you see the accused?" asked the crown.

"Yes," replied Constable Jardine. "He was just walking around. He was quite rational."

"I understand that there was no liquor evident?" The officer replied that he could trace no liquor whatsoever.

Questioned as to marks on the road, the officer stated that he had traced marks the next day for a distance of 115 feet from the Pickrell car and other marks from the Johnston car for a distance of 224 feet.

"I believe from the marks that the Pickrell car had turned over twice," he stated.

The witness further testified that there is a solid yellow line running along the centre of the road on the hill. He described the positions of the Johnston car as very near the top of the hill and the Pickrell car as half way up the hill.

"I asked Mr. Johnston what seemed to go wrong and he said that he was coming north and had pulled out to pass the Pickrell car," added the officer. "He said that his car got on the shoulder and that he lost control of the car. Later he said that he thought that the Pickrell car had sped up a little as he pulled out to pass."

"What was the condition of the shoulders?" Crown Attorney Mathews asked the witness. "The shoulders are quite solid. But there is a little trench dug by the department to drain off the water."

Constable Jardine told his worship that he could see no marks on the shoulder where the Johnston car had gone off the road. "They might have been erased by the rain. We could not see in the dark that night. When we went to the hospital I started to rain."

According to the evidence of County Constable William Hill, who aided Constable Jardine in the investigation of the accident, the hill on which the accident had taken place was about 600 feet in length and the Pickrell car was lying about three-quarters of the way up the hill. The Johnston car was about 60 feet from the top. The officer stated that from the marks on the road it looked as if the Johnston car had skidded first.

When called to the stand to relate his side of the story, Murray Johnston told his worship that he and the deceased youth had been chums and had worked in the same place in Toronto.

"I started to pass him before I met the solid line," stated the defendant. "When I turned out to pass him he swung over in front of me a little. It made me take to the shoulder of the road. There was a drain. I figured I hit the drain. I lost control of the car. I was a little ahead of his car when I lost control."

"How fast were you driving?" asked Defence Counsel Lee. "I was driving between 35 and 40 miles an hour," replied the defendant.

"Do you know what happened after you lost control?" the youth replied that he could not say. Cross-examined by the crown, the defendant admitted that he should not have been passing the Pickrell car on the hill. He also admitted that the two cars had already come to the solid yellow line when he passed the other car.

"I don't think this was an error of judgment but a deliberately dangerous way of driving," the crown advised his worship. "I am not saying that the other boy was not in the wrong also."

"As far as you are concerned your counsel has done everything that there is possible to do for you," Magistrate McIlwain told the defendant. "But I feel as the crown feels I feel that there were two people guilty of pranks. There were two boys going out and getting smart. Through that smartness you have killed your best friend. I feel that the other boy was as guilty as this boy," the magistrate remarked.

A charge of careless driving against the defendant was withdrawn.

Although he pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving on Yonge St., on April 2, Magistrate McIlwain found Lyon G. Thorne, Aurora, guilty of the charge and fined him $25 and costs of $27.50.

According to Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson, having received information, he proceeded to the scene of an accident on Yonge St. "I found a 1930 car lying badly damaged on the east side of the highway," he stated. "The car showed signs of having rolled over." The officer said that he followed skid marks on the road for a distance of 22 ft. He did not see the driver until the next day.

Constable Ferguson further informed his worship that the Thorne car had been in two accidents previously and that no repairs had been made on it. He stated that the tires were not in good condition and the steering gear out of line. He had previously drawn the defendant's attention to the bad condition of the car, he said.

In his defence Mr. Thorne told his worship that he had been driving to Bradford when his tire suddenly went flat. He stated that he had become nervous and was afraid that he would collide with two approaching cars. He had drawn over on his own side of the road when the car suddenly swung round. He said that he did not know the tires were so bad and had intended to have his steering gear repaired. After the accident he went on to Bradford, where he contacted the police.

Robert Doyle, Aurora, a passenger in the Thorne car at the time of the accident, testified that the defendant had been travelling between 45 and 50 miles an hour. He testified that they had had anything to drink but stated that they had been on their way to do so.

"I think you are lucky you didn't kill yourself or someone else, your passenger, for instance," remarked Magistrate McIlwain. His worship cancelled Mr.

Thorne's license to drive for six months.

A charge of failing to pay wages to Gregory Hodgins, King, against Roy Murrell, Sharon, was dismissed.

According to Mr. Hodgins, he had been hired by William Crawford to help saw wood. Mr. Crawford in turn had been contracted by Mr. Murrell. Mr. Hodgins stated that he had been paid in part for his services but that there was still $15.25 owing him.

When called to the stand, William Crawford, Whitechurch, testified that he had hired Mr. Hodgins and was responsible for paying him. He stated that he had sent the money over to the latter's house but that he would not accept the amount owing to Mr. Hodgins at $13.

"Your quarrel is between Mr. Crawford and yourself," his worship told the complainant.

Magistrate McIlwain ordered that a bench warrant be issued for Alexander Leo McPhee, Toronto, who failed to appear in court to answer charges of illegal possession of liquor and of being drunk in a public place. He also ordered that a warrant be issued for Robert F. Elliott, Toronto, who did not appear to answer a charge of failing to produce a registration certificate at the request of a police officer.

Fred Peeler, R.R. 2, Weston, also charged with failing to produce a registration certificate at the request of a police officer, was remanded for sentence upon payment of costs of court. A similar charge against H. M. Loveless, R.R. 2, Agincourt, was adjourned until next week. Mr. Loveless was also charged with failing to produce a commercial motor vehicle certificate. This charge was also adjourned a week.

His worship imposed fines of $10 each on Byron Walker, Newmarket, and George Porter, Bolton. Both defendants were found guilty of having had brakes on their cars.

"I had to put Mr. Porter's car off the road altogether," testified County Constable Ronald Watt. "He had no brakes on his car at a distance of 100 feet from the same day."

For not having flares on his truck W. H. Williamson, Newmarket, was fined $5 and costs.

For failing to produce his commercial motor vehicle permit at the request of the officer, George Fuller, Toronto, was fined $1.75 and costs.

Hugh Gallie, Toronto, was fined $1 and costs for having bad lights on his car.

Magistrate McIlwain dismissed a charge of theft against Frank Romagnoli, Holland Marsh, which was laid at the request of Cecil Wray, King.

Mr. Wray had charged that the defendant, who had bought from him and paid for 20 trees, instead of taking those trees, pointed out at the time the contract was made, had taken 22. Among the 22 trees he had cut down there were nine which Mr. Wray did not want to sell.

In dismissing the charge his worship stated that he did not want to use the court as a collection agency.

Don't Let Your Liver Make You an Invalid

People who are off colour say they're liverish or their liver is bad! Do you know how serious this is—that it may lead to permanent ill health—your whole system poisoned and broken down?

● Your liver is the largest organ in your body and most important to your health. It supplies energy to muscles, tissues and glands. If unhealthy, your body lacks this energy and becomes enfeebled—youthful vim disappears. Again your liver pours out bile to digest food, get rid of waste and allow proper nourishment to reach your blood. When your liver gets out of order proper digestion and nourishment stop—you're poisoned with the waste that decomposes in your intestines. Nervous troubles and rheumatic pains arise from this poison. You become constipated, stomach and kidneys can't work properly. The whole system is affected and you feel "rotten," headache, backache, dizziness, tired out—a ready prey for sickness and disease.

Thousands of people are never sick, and have won prompt relief from these miseries with "Improved Fruit-a-Lives" Tablets. The liver is toned up, the other organs function normally and lasting good health results. Today "Improved Fruit-a-Lives" are Canada's largest selling liver tablets. They must be good! Try them yourself NOW. Let "Fruit-a-Lives" put you back on the road to lasting health—feel like a new person. 25c, 50c.

"Constantly In Pain, Now A New Woman"

For a long time I felt very miserable with liver trouble and constipation which brought on such bad headaches that I could hardly do my housework. I started Fruit-a-Lives and felt better at once. After using only one box the awful headaches were gone, constipation left me and I felt like a new woman.

I was always irritable, tired, headache, I could not eat or sleep well and had very severe constipation. After trying many medicines I found "Fruit-a-Lives". My headaches have disappeared and I am now free from all my troubles.

In Memoriam

Pattenden—In loving memory of my husband, Clarence, who departed this life April 22, 1941, aged 32 years, 7 months, 11 days.

God knew that he was suffering. That the hills were hard to climb. So he closed his weary eyelids. And whispered, "Peace be thine." Away in the beautiful hills of God. By the valley of rest so fair. Some time, some day, I know not when I'll meet my loved one there.

Ever remembered by his wife, Myrtle.

Somerville—In ever loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. C. Somerville, who passed away on April 15, 1931.

God knew that she was suffering. That the hills were hard to climb. So he closed her weary eyelids. And whispered, "Peace be thine."

Ever remembered by her loving husband and family.

Smith—In loving memory of our dear mother, Barbara F. Smith, who left this world on April 10, 1939.

This world is but the rugged road. Which leads us to the bright abode. Of Peace above.

Remembered always by her family.

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT

AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 16TH, 1942

SINGLE COPIES, 5 CENTS EACH

WHITCHURCH TOWNSHIP Road Appropriation Is Cut By Over $7,000

Whitchurch council, in session on Saturday, added their voice of protest against the proposed amendments to the Assessment Act that would take out of the hands of the municipalities the right to make their own assessments and to collect the municipal taxes. Although it was said the changes were about to be withdrawn, no chance was taken in adding the opinion of this council, and voicing their protest.

"It is only the beginning of taking away the last bit of authority municipal councils have," declared Councillor Eugene Baker.

Councillor Evans submitted the following resolution which was subscribed to by the reeve and all members of the council:

"We, the council of the township of Whitchurch, strongly protest to our member of the legislature, also to the minister of municipal affairs, the proposed amendments to the Assessment Act, as we feel and know that we can administer our assessment and tax collection much more economically than any central body can or would do, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Hon. L. Macaulay, Hon. G. S. Henry, W. J. Gardhouse and Morgan Baker, members of the legislature." Reeve Earl Toole, Deputy Reeve Leary and Councillors Eugene Baker, Ed. Logan and L. P. Evans all signed and said they were pleased to subscribe to the protest.

The department of municipal affairs announced that the subsidy of one mill on the rateable property would again be paid by the Ontario government this year.

"This is a gift of approximately $1,700 which we feared might not be forthcoming this year," Clerk John Crawford observed.

The welfare department informed the council that from April 1 they would contribute to unemployment relief on a 50-50 basis. They also advised the council that they would pay nothing on tobacco or newspapers purchased on relief orders.

If there are any church residences in the township (rectory or parsonage occupied by a minister actively engaged) exempt from taxation by reason of being church property, they must henceforth be taxed, Township Solicitor J. D. Lucas advised the council. A recent judgment affecting the court of appeal has shown that church homes occupied by ministers are taxable.

Road accounts passed for payment totalled $895.90 and a number of general accounts were ordered paid.

The township's road appropriation for 1942 of $18,000 received a rude jolt when it was learned that the government, which pays half this sum, had cut the total amount from $18,000 to $10,800. If any greater sum is expended the ratepayers will pay 100 percent of the over-expenditure.

"I think we should abide by the decision of the department and not spend any more money than that on which we can collect the 50 percent," declared Mr. Toole. "It will mean drastic changes in our road program, but we should try and confine our expenditures to the amount set. That is the responsibility of the department if it is totally inadequate. They are in with us on township roads on a 50-50 basis," he concluded.

Eversley

"Chills up! England may lose a battle but never a war!"

Rev. Dr. Carmichael followed up the Easter service by preaching on the beginning of the Christian church after Pentecost. Mrs. Carmichael accompanied him as his chauffeur and on Sunday his daughter and grandson from Scarborough accompanied him also.

At the morning service at Eversley church on Sunday the rite of baptism was administered to the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobbs, who live near Kettleby. Mrs. Wassink, mother of Mrs. Hobbs, in the absence of Mr. Hobbs, stood sponsor for Martin Henry Hobbs, the bright little grandson who received the ordinance of baptism.

Many changes have been made in farm ownership in this district this spring. Farm sales have been numerous and prices have been good.

Charles Cohen is selling his farm stock, implements, and 500 White Leghorn hens and his Jersey cows.

Maurice Beynon has rented Mr. Cohen's farm, to work in conjunction with his own.

After the snow winter just experienced farmers expect to be on the land soon. It was surprising to see such snowbanks. There is no doubt but that the fall wheat and grass seeds will feel much better after the snow blanket, which covered them from the cold, frosty weather.

The Elmhurst Beach Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. C. Hodgins. The reports for the year were given and the election of officers held, after which lunch was served and a social half-hour enjoyed.

AURORA FLIER IS
"BELIEVED DROWNED"

Mrs. J. L. Bradbury received word last week from R.C.A.F. authorities at Ottawa giving her available details surrounding the tragedy which has presumably brought Aurora it's first war-time casualty. According to the letter her husband, Pilot-Officer Jack Bradbury, was "believed drowned" after operations on April 1. Pilot-Officer Bradbury, with three others, crashed in the sea a mile from the coast of Scotland in the early morning of April 1. Two of the men were rescued and are suffering from severe shock while Pilot-Officer Bradbury and one other flier are missing and "believed drowned."

Pilot-Officer Bradbury, it is presumed, was returning from action over Norway or Germany. Cause of the crash is not known. Aurora mourns the loss of one of the bravest of its native sons serving his country.

LIVED 68 YEARS ON
KING TOWNSHIP FARM

The death occurred on Monday in Toronto of Mark Nell McCallum of Strathroy in his 68th year.

He was a well-known King township farmer. He retired a few years ago but continued to live in the same stone farmhouse in which he was born. He was one of the tallest men in the township.

He was a Presbyterian and is survived by two brothers, Melville of Strathroy and James of Lasky.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday at St. Andrew's church, Strathroy, and at King cemetery.

China Expresses No
Hate, Missionary Says

The Women's Missionary Society held special services at Aurora United church on Sunday. Mrs. R. S. Longley of Toronto, returned missionary from West China, took the morning service, assisted by the president, Mrs. E. H. Clarke, and Mrs. J. Underhill.

Mrs. Longley spent over 30 years in China and her church, now destroyed, was one in a district to serve 1,000,000 people. She told of the bombings by Japanese planes and said they stood up as well as the people of Britain.

"I never heard a word of hatred uttered although the families suffered terribly and in some cases lost practically all their relatives," she said. China was able, owing to the size of its territory, to withdraw and yet absorb the new population, she said. They could keep this up indefinitely, she thought.

On one occasion, along with Chinese, she had experienced a steady 48-hour bombing underground, with little food or water.

Little food or water, she said, because China had lost her war-pots, making expensive hauling of food, while there was a labor shortage for cultivation because most of the physically fit men were in the front lines.

"Rice, which before the Japanese attacks sold for $2.80 a sack, in some parts now brings $7.00," she said. A sack of rice now sells for $1.50 to $3.

At the evening service Rev. Roy Hicks discussed the oriental conception of the scriptures and the difficulty encountered in the mission field in an illustrated sermon, "Each With His Own Brush."

The 220th battalion is holding their sixth annual banquet at the Prince George hotel, Toronto, on Saturday, April 25.

KING MISS OUT ON RURAL TITLE

Forty seconds spelled the difference between the all-Ontario rural hockey title and the distinction of remaining in the bridesmaid class for King City puckers, who had already brought distinction to the district by winning the rural intermediate A title.

Milton, the senior winners, tied the game with a Merriwell goal from the stick of Mike Cox and then in overtime scored a cluster of three goals to take the sudden death tilt, 4-1. For 60 minutes King were better than Milton and if a little more strategy had been used would have held their lead.

King led 3-2 at the end of the first period. The last period was a humdinger. King appeared to have it in the bag until in the last minute of play they changed lines and Cox galloped away for the equalizer. In the overtime the breaks for King were a minus quantity. In the last two minutes Cox was yanked from the nets but before they could do anything with the odd man advantage the play backfired and Milton banged home two more counters.

Ross Foillott, Charlie Case, Ritchie Sayer and Doug Palmer were the best of the King boys, several of whom were a bit out of their class. This quartet carried the mail all night with Dennis, Graham and Shrophire having their moments too. Cox, the Robertson brothers and Houston were best for Milton. Howard Teasdale of Brampton refereed the game at Tavina rink, Toronto.

DRILL EXPERT TRAINS

Sgt.-Major C. S. Huggert, R.C.R., drill expert of the instruction cadre of M.D. 2 on Monday and Tuesday of this week took over for drill purposes the Aurora high school girls' cadet corps.

As a result of the C.S.M.'s tuition the girls are now marching in army style. Norma Mathew is captain and the four platoon lieutenants are Barbara Brown, Pat Sisman, Mary Emmott and Dorothy Richardson. Selma Mesley is C.S.M. and Joan Chalk is drum-major.

Boys' Band Assisted
By A.H.S. Girl Singers

The Aurora Boys' band, assisted by a double trio from Aurora high school glee club, gave a crowd-pleasing performance in Mechanics' hall on Friday.

Sgt. Stanley Brock, Toronto industrialist, and a firm supporter of the band, told Aurorians they had reason to be proud of the band.

"They are a fine bunch of boys and are getting better every year," he said. "The discipline they learn and their musical ability will stand them in good stead in later life. A good band is a big asset to any community."

DOWN THE CENTRE

Forty seconds was all that kept the King City boys from pulling one of the big surprises of the season by downing Milton, the senior winners in the all-Ontario farm championship. With a one-goal lead, Cec Walker yanked off his star line of Sayer, Palmer and Graham and before the second line could get their bearings big Mike Cox, one of the best in intermediate company had blasted the rubber biscuit past Charlie Case. The fact of the matter is that the above-mentioned trio were able to check the first-string Milton line, while at least two of the other King line weren't able to cope with them. It was a bad break all the way around and one the team never got over.

Six forwards rarely vote to advantage and again the King bench in over-time went haywire when they were down one goal by taking out their goalie too soon. Milton banged home two counters in the empty cage, to put the game on ice. We have always thought this strategy introduced by Lester Patrick was practically useless unless you get the break.

Milton really made Coach Bob Moody mad before game time. When the series was being arranged the Milton manager pulled a Bill Terry by asking if King was capable of putting up a good game and suggesting Milton was miles too good. King almost made Milton eat those words as the "Dodgers of Brooklyn" made Terry eat his wick crack, "Is Brooklyn still in the same league?"

Howard Teasdale of Brampton, who refereed the game, was a victim of some misplaced if amusing humor. After the game he found someone had absconded with his shoes. Last seen he was leaving the rink on his skates. Teasdale at one time resided here and married an Aurora girl. He is a cousin of "Tiny" Teasdale.

Barrie Collegians, last year's softball champions, are considering a team in the local group again. Tommy Rock, their nifty catcher, is still at Camp Borden. Ivan Gracie, the Hines boys, Schand-lein, the Miles brothers and others are still around ready for action. Harry Cause is still in Barrie, but he is awaiting a call to Galt aircraft school. Pitching will be the factor likely to decide Barrie's ultimate decision, but in a town that size there should be plenty of softball hurlers available.

Barrie softballers all were playing bush league hockey the past winter. Willie Bone, the Aurora softball, will be available for action here again. He has been honorably discharged from the ordinance corps with a chest ailment that should be only temporary. He was a disappointed boy when he came home and hopes to see action before it is all over. Willie is a fair sort of chucker and a handy utility player.

Joe Dimaggio has given out a tip this year which should be noted by the hardballers of the Newmarket to win league, softballers and youngsters aspiring to play ball of any variety. When asked what his cure-all for hitting was, Joe said, "The only thing I make sure of when I fail to hit for a game on ice is that the toe of my left foot is pointed directly at the pitcher." It is the tendency to pull from the plate or not to have the foot firmly planted in the bucket that is responsible for so many weak hitters. Just as in golf, swing is the thing and a firm toe hold in either sport makes for distance and sureness.

Sutton Greenhairs, as you know, won the O.H.A. intermediate A title to climax a fine season's work but over the weekend in Quebec city, the first eastern Canada intermediate title clash to the Quebec champions. Both games of the best of three series were lost by one goal. The first game was lost 3-2 and the final 4-3. In both games Sutton lost out with late third-period goals after they had brought the score to a tie.

The series was played in Quebec city and attracted over 8,000 customers, justifying the contention of Cecil Duncan of Ottawa, the organizer of the series, that there was gold in the hills both for the teams and the C.A.H.A. A series of such a nature would pay all right in Quebec or the Maritimes but the teams wouldn't have made train expenses if it had been played in Toronto. To our way of thinking, the series proves nothing, because unlike senior or junior there is no standard available to decide if a team is of intermediate calibre or not.

Reserve strength was the real cause of the Sutton loss. Bill Roberts, ace defenceman and Syd Shepstone, the dynamic winger, did not make the trip because they could not get away from work and Bill Burkholder pulled into the Quebec capital for Sunday's game. Cec Carpenter, the coach, played in Friday's game and turned in a fine effort in his first appearance of the season. There is not much doubt but that Roberts and Shepstone would have made the difference.

A woman secretary gave Sutton quite a bit of color in the person of Mrs. R. J. Smalley, wife of Councillor R. J. Smalley of Sutton, the former secretary. A search of the record books fails to show another woman secretary in Ontario at least. Mrs. Smalley took over the task when her husband, who started the season, found his war work interfered and the boys pressed Mrs. Smalley into action. She did a fine job, from all accounts, of looking after financial matters and seeing that everything was letter perfect. The boys on the team swear by her and say she can deliver quite a pop talk when the boys are in the doldrums.

The Sutton boys make no alibis in their loss and certain it is that Mrs. Smalley has been responsible in no small way for the success of the team this season. Women have held important posts in baseball, tennis, golf, racing, basketball, softball and other sports and there is no reason why hockey shouldn't be one of their fields too. We may expect to see more of the fair sex taking their part in executive sports posts as the war progresses. Mrs. Smalley has set a fine mark for other girls to shoot at.

"I believe that organized sport plays a very important part in Canadian life, especially in wartime," says Mrs. Smalley.

The Lake Simcoe centre received more publicity this year through their hockey team than if they had spent hundreds of dollars on tourist propaganda. Sutton is definitely on the map now to many thousands who didn't even know where the village was located.

Records show Collingwood and the Quebec champions to be the only two teams to hold a season's edge over Ellis Pringle and his mates, but Gravenhurst and Fingit Bombers made things uncomfortable. Probably no team ever won a title with a more peculiar looking record. Over the season Sutton played 21 league and play-off games, winning 12, losing 10, and tying 2. Of course, you can drop out the four games against Collingwood as they were classified as senior B but still the record is one that displays just how well the Greenhairs battled when the chips were really down. The goal record shows 147 on the credit side and 119 on the red ink side.

Ginger Hall deserves an accolade for his splendid showing. It was Hall more than any other player who put the team in championship fettle. According to press dispatches from Quebec, he was little short of sensational and put on an act with a derby thrown by some fan that would have done Charlie Chaplin credit. Hall's goal record has been very good and remember he joined the team only one game before the play-offs started.

"Joint" McComb of course leads the team in scoring points but in the finals Benny Harris, the soldier boy from Camp Borden, Gordy Diplock and Syd Shepstone have all been giving Joint a real run for his money. McComb, however, has been a marked man.

The champs used the following players in their trek to the title. Ginger Hall, Mickey Smith, Bob Peters and Dunne all shared the nets at various stages, though the latter, still a junior, didn't get into action. Bill Roberts, Ellis Pringle, Bill Burkholder, Syd Shepstone, "Joint" McComb, Ivan Gilbey, Bill Schmidt, Cec Carpenter, Gordon Diplock, Benny Harris, Harvey Gibney, "Cowboy" Brandon, Jack Culverwell and Kirkham all helped and not in the order named.

There is a wealth of experience in that collection and probably one of the features that has been overlooked is the fine work done by Brandon, the Cannington boy. Harvey Gibney, who returned to action this year better than ever after a serious kidney injury last year, Schmidt, a homebrew lad a year out of junior ranks, and Ivan Gilbey, who still has two more years in the minor company. The big lad is a real prospect and will likely be seen in junior A company next season.

Jack Sibbald, Bill Pugsley, Mike Tremayne, Harvey Taylor, Frank Culverwell and a host of proud Sutton biggies are planning to honor the boys shortly and we hope to be present on that occasion.

We have received a bid to the spread that will be held for the King boys, so we're ordering head-ache tablets etc. in advance.

Craig McKenzie is the latest of the fast growing coterie of local high school athletes to enlist. Craig has followed older brother Gordon to the air force. He was an all-round performer at the local school in track, basketball, football and hockey. Anson Gilbert, another high school athlete, expects to go to the air force soon. Teddy Johnson, another athlete, tried hard for the navy during the holidays but 16 years is a bit too young for the tars and his time will come later. Both boys are meantime training in the reserve with the Queen's Yorks, who, by the way, would welcome any lads not in the military active service categories.

Markham is the first centre to organize for softball so far and a league composed of Unionville, Cedar Grove, Agincourt and Markham will again function. They had plenty of fun in that sector last year.

Aurora softballers are expected to meet soon, and chances are that muckball of some sort will flourish locally. We understand that the Lake Simcoe league is to function again, and, while the calibre of play isn't generally as strong as the local fans have been accustomed to seeing, if the local club could get an entry in that league with a strictly homebrew club it would at least provide plenty of competition and would eliminate long travelling and late starting.

Richmond Hill is not short of players and could perhaps lay down the strongest team in the league, on paper at least, this year. Manager Charlie Ryan is thinking things out right now but that rumor which circulated last fall that the Hill-billies would be playing in a Toronto loop this season has apparently petered out. Congratulations this week go to Bill Pagan, former high school athlete from Schomberg, who has just graduated with the rank of sergeant pilot from the Newmarket R.C.A.F. centre. Bill expects to go overseas without delay.

Bill Burkholder, fresh from his hockey triumphs, will be playing softball in the Davisville senior B league with his employers' factory entry.

Jackie Gibson, Pete Kaus and Jackie Dickson, all former Newmarket athletes, will line up with a West Toronto industrial entry. All three are expected to play senior hardball too in the Earlscourt senior league. Kaus and Gibson both played seasonally in junior ranks last year.

Former Aurora hardballers home on leave from the R.C.A.F. this week are Corporal Freddy Thompson and LAC Gordon "Buck" Hayes. Thompson is carving the rousta and chops for the fliers at Dufresne, Manitoba, and Hayes is an expert aeroplane mechanic at Calgary. Both boys look in the pink and are warm in their praise of living conditions with the air force. Both boys were teammates of the writer quite a few years back in the old tri-county and York-Simcoe leagues.

Freddy Thompson was a portlander of more than passing ability. He played at varying stages with Stouffville, Newmarket and Aurora. His last appearance was with Cliff Case's Blue Ribbons. Probably one of the greatest games he ever pitched was a 3-2 play-off game at Stouffville, which he lost when a ball got away from the arm from Percy Devins. The opposing hurler was no less than the doughty Earl Cook. The loss gave Stouffville the league championship. Roy Gifford was catching Freddy that day.

Buck Hayes had more ginger and pep than anybody ever remembered in the Aurora line-up. The only fly in the ointment was that Buck's wing was uncertain when a pop to second became necessary. But no one ever had more heart or brains than Buck. We recall an amusing incident in our brief role as manager of the local hardballers. Buck and Lefty Kay were teamed up as a battery against Uxbridge and, after sailing along well, began to slip. The rest of the team finally put on enough pressure to persuade me to substitute Herb Sharpless on the mound and Roy Gifford, who always caught him, behind the plate. Buck took exception to our judgment, which perhaps was a bit hasty, and picking up a baseball bat almost persuaded the writer to change his decision. When it was all over and Aurora had won, Buck was happy as a king but we hate to think what might have happened if we hadn't been able to move fast or the result had been different. Buck, good sport that he is, came back to play as usual and we were glad to forget the whole thing. Our experience as manager was brief but it had its moments.

"Dutch" Cain, the old Aurora hockey player and O.H.A. referee, is stationed at Calgary too and referred quite a few games out there this season. He is a corporal and of all things what is termed as "disciplinary" or orderly corporal in army terms. Those who remember the Newmarket boy will agree time certainly works wonders. Discipline was one thing Dutch was a total stranger to when he was playing hockey. He is silver-tatched now but, according to Buck, doing a splendid job.

An apology is offered for the omission of the name of Bill Wilson from former Aurora junior hockey players on active service. Billy is with the navy and the list we were looking at did not touch the third or silent service, so that's how we missed him. Frank Bailey, the cyclist, is the only other North York athlete in the navy, although Jack Dales, the Varsity track star and former Newmarket high athlete, expects to receive his commission soon, and Bob Benville, the boxer-cyclist-badminton ace and sports columnist, too expects to be with the boys in blue before too long. At least Robert has made application to the navy in the mechanical branch. Jim Elmsley, former Aurora golfer, has a commission with the navy but never took part in any competitive sports.

Ken to Ace pulled into the Woodbine track on Tuesday and Charlie Smith has already had a couple of work-outs on the son of Stand Pat and Royalite. There is a strong chance that if the Giddings colt wins the guineas he will be sent on the American circuits and with the news that Alsab, the leading American two-year-old of last year, may invade Canadian tracks, Aurora's Charlie Smith is beginning to get more and more space in the Toronto papers.

Ross Waddell, the goalie for last year's Aurora team, played seasonally in the eastern finals and is now in Winnipeg. Already he is being dubbed "the best in junior company" so far as netminders are concerned. As yet Aurora has not received a word of credit for developing the lad, Barrie and Etobicoke getting all the mention. We intend to rectify that.

Del Beaumont in two T.H.L. games to date has banged home four goals for Don. Hamilton's Danforth Aces, who look to be well on the way to the T.H.L. King Clancy junior title. Don writes: "The club is getting stronger every time out, so everything should be all right." The Aces have scored only six goals, so Del has accounted for more than his share.

Golf courses everywhere this year are cutting down brush, removing shrubs, and eliminating or protecting water hazards to save golf-balls. We don't know what the Aurora club is doing but it is a good idea if some of the boys are going to be able to finish out a whole season.

Alf. Harden, we understand, is being moved to North Bay from Newmarket camp. There's another former Aurora junior, which brings the total to 32 lads on service. Can you think of any others? We'd appreciate it if you'd give us the names we've missed.

Testimonies were given by some of the young people and

The Sunday evening service was taken by the young people of the church in the absence of the pastor.

The young people's orchestra played "Have you been to Jesus."

Testimonies were given by some of the young people and the message was brought by Mr. Bram. Reed, who spoke on "Job."

KESWICK
SCENIC FILMS SHOWN AT CHURCH SUPPER

The regular meeting of the W.A. of Keswick United church was held on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dan. McGenerty had charge of the fine worship service, at which Mrs. R. K. Prosser, Mrs. Leslie Morton and Mrs. George White contributed a delightful vocal number.
Mrs. W. Davison, president, was in the chair for the business period. It was decided to dispense with the May supper, but a supper will be held in June as usual.

The supper which was served to a large number was most delicious and many compliments were paid to those in charge of the arrangements, who included Mrs. George Hamilton, Mrs. O. M. King, Mrs. Orvan Huntley and Mrs. Fred Peel. The guests were graciously welcomed by Mrs. Davison and Mrs. Gordon Lapp.

At the conclusion of the pleasant meal-time, an educational and interesting evening was enjoyed, as J. L. Carhart of Toronto, so well known in Keswick, showed several rolls of films. Many local views, as well as northern Ontario, Muskoka, Haliburton and scenes from Virginia and up the New Jersey coast were greatly enjoyed. Others who contributed to the excellent program were Miss Jean Huntley, who gave a reading, "The Timid One"; the Misses Evelyn and Marion King, two instrumental duets; and Misses Patti and Lillian Connell, a vocal duet.

Rev. Gordon Lapp on behalf of the audience thanked Mr. Carhart for his coming from Toronto, to bring so much pleasure, and also thanked the others who had added much to the program.

The wonderful response to the supper this winter has been a source of real gratification to the members of the W.A., their hard-working president, Mrs. W. J. Davison, and convenors of the various suppers, etc. The financial returns each month have been far in excess of other winter's affairs, and when it was announced that almost $44 had been taken in on Thursday, once more the ladies felt repaid for all the work these suppers mean. From money raised at these events several improvements have been made possible. The president was grateful to all for their co-operation.

The services at Keswick United church on Sunday, with Rev. Mr. Stuart of Sutton as guest preacher both times, were well attended and Mr. Stuart's fine sermons were appreciated and enjoyed. In the morning the choir sang "God so loved the world," and in the evening Miss Gilroy sang "Show me my task," most pleasingly.

Rev. Gordon Lapp was in Toronto recently attending a boys' work meeting.

Romantic, mysterious, decidedly out of the ordinary, is "Swamp Water," a pictorialization of the Vereen Bell novel about the dread Okfenakee swamp.

A popular novel as well as an unusually successful magazine serial, it is different in that it begins in brooding mystery and terror but ends in sunshine and freedom and love.

Walter Brennan, Walter Huston, Anne Baxter and Dana Andrews are featured in "Swamp Water," which is showing on Friday and Saturday at the Strand theatre.

The fine supporting cast includes Virginia Gilmore, John Cardine, Mary Howard and many others.

An uproarious comedy of errors, in which everyone seems to be two other people, aptly describes the riotous plot of the new Lappe Vitex-Len Errol laugh-film, "Mexican Spitfire at Sea," on the same program.

Because of many requests, the popular picture, "One Foot in Heaven," which was shown here only a few weeks ago, is being brought back to the Strand for two days only, next Monday and Tuesday. There is something about good acting on the screen.

Freddie March will be known for years as William Spence of "One Foot in Heaven" fame. He will be remembered as the crusading Methodist minister, who mellowed with the passing of the years, under the skilful guidance of his wife, Hope Morris Spence, as played by Martha Scott. Hartzell Spence was the author of the book, a best seller.

On the same program, "The Stork Pays Off," pays off with a lot of laughter, jobs of action and thrills galore, as "Blapito" Maxie Rosenbloom and Victor Jory trade in their guns for aprons and play mother to a nursery. Rochelle Hudson appears in the feminine lead. It all happens when a gang of riotous racketeers move in on a nursery, thinking it's a nursery.

Abbott and Costello will be back at the Strand next Wednesday. Funnier than ever before, the hilarious pair are clad in aprons, chaps and ten-gallon hats. "Ride 'Em Cowboys" is by far the most pretentious and hilarious of their riotous vehicles, even topping their first smashing comedy, "Buck Privates." It has an even more diverting story thread than its predecessors, more impressive song numbers, a stronger cast and greater production values.

The story takes the comedians from their berths as hot dog vendors at a Long Island rodeo, shanghai them into Arizona and establishes them as cowhands at a dude ranch. They become entangled in a mesh of feminine pulchritude, wild steers, bucking bronchos and last but not least, a tribe of Indians. Running throughout are two romantic threads that give aching sides a chance to ease themselves.

IS IT LOVE - CHARLES?

1. "Charles," snapped my Aunt, "you moon around like a sick hen. Is it love or have you forgotten?" I knew what she meant. "To avoid internal sluggishness" she'd always say "eat POST'S Bran Flakes—the delicious cereal with three benefits!"

2. She bounces into the grocery, "I'll take none but POST'S Bran Flakes" she says. "They give three important benefits. One—enough bran for gentle action; two—useful amounts of iron and phosphorus; three—they're simply delicious to eat."

3. Now thirty blossoms into blossom, "Hurrah for delicious bran flakes," I sing, "you've chased away the blues and helped make me feel a man again." "You mean delicious POST'S Bran Flakes," reproves my aunt, "—never forget it!"

Get them for 3 important benefits:

1. A natural regulator which helps prevent constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet.
2. Useful quantities of iron for the blood and phosphorus for the bones and teeth.
3. Crisp, golden flakes—full of delicious, taste-tempting flavor and so good for you, too.

MOTHER'S VEIL IS WORN BY BRIDE

A pretty wedding took place at the United church, Mount Albert, on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Margaret Ione Sinclair, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Sinclair of Mount Albert, became the bride of Robert Webster Archer of Elmvalle, son of Mrs. R. Archer of Elmvalle, and the late Mr. Archer.

The church was decorated with Easter lilies, ferns, clematis and pussy willows. Rev. R. V. Wilson performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white chiffon over taffeta. She wore her mother's bridal veil and carried American Beauty roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Pauline Sinclair, who wore a floor-length gown of moonlight blue chiffon over taffeta and carried sweet peas.

During the signing of the register, Miss Irene Stevens of Barrie sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss B. McMackon of Barrie.

Mr. Earl Johnston of Elmvalle acted as best man, while Gnr. Ben. Sinclair, brother of the bride, and Pte. C. Archer, brother of the groom, were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where the bride's mother received, wearing a navy sheer dress, navy hat and corsage of roses, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing a dress of black sheer, black hat and corsage of roses.

For travelling the bride wore a symphony blue crepe suit, matching hat and black accessories. After a wedding trip to Sarnia and Windsor Mr. and Mrs. Archer will live in Elmvalle.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl clip pin, to the soloist a blue and silver compact, to the groomsmen a pen and pencil set, to the ushers, billfolds, and to the bridesmaid, a locket and chain.
